Summary of the students' oral and written feedback:

The amount of assignments and seminars were manageable. Teachers were great in delivering the course objectives. More group work. Good seminars and curriculum material. A student commented that depending on the future of the course, it might be of interest looking into splitting it up into two 7,5-credit courses instead.

The average on course expectations, methods and learning activities, examination forms, and opportunity to take responsibility for own learning was 5,8 out of 6 (where 1 is "to a very small extent" and 6 is "to a very large extent).

Teacher's perspective (To be completed by the course coordinator)

Summary of the teacher's views:

From the written evaluations, the students are generally satisfied with the course (although based on very few final evaluation responses). However, during and after the semester, several students have personally expressed their satisfaction with the course.
