Summary of the students course evaluations

The students didn't give any specific feedback on the Thesis course during the programme evaluation and there was no complaints on the course during the course.

Summary of involved teacher evaluations

The examiners of the course felt that there was too little time to do a qualitative assessment of the papers (there was too little calendar time to do the assessment and the number of hours designated for the task was too small). The examiners had to use their free time to complete the task.

The examiners also said that some of the papers was too long and should be reduced in size.

Analysis

Examiners need more time (space in calendar and number of hours) to do a qualitative assessment on work time.

Plan of action

1. Limit numbers of pages for papers.
2. Give examiners more time to assess.

Proposed changes to the syllabus

None.
