Forms of evaluation

The course evaluation consisted of a general broad question about what they thought of the course and suggestions for improvements.

Summary of the students' course evaluations

The three who responded also wrote about the whole year and they are satisfied. Regarding IV610G, they are satisfied with seminars, supervision and the clear structure. One idea was to involve supervisors even earlier.

Summary of the evaluations of the teaching team

The course got more seminars a year or so ago, which provided a better balance between general seminars and individual supervision. Students were invited to the department's Higher Seminars, but no one attended.

Analysis

The course is well functioning.

Action plan

The course will have a new course leader, whose English is even better, why the level of the general seminars will be raised even further. Students should be encouraged to better follow the department's Higher Seminar.

Proposed revisions to the course syllabus

None
