Teacher's perspective (To be completed by the course coordinator)

Summary of the teacher's views:

It is always difficult to draw conclusions based on few answers, but in my view – judging also from the papers submitted – students have reached the intended learning outcomes and this overall in a very good way. Presentations, questions and conversations during lectures and seminars have been to the point, raising several important issues relating to the topic of the course and literature covered.

Action plan (To be completed by the course coordinator)

Currently, no major changes planned. The course literature will change somewhat to next time, reducing the articles included in the course plan and expanding the number of pages that may be added to the course. This to allow for more flexibility and include recent literature.
